AI is an important future skills for all staffs in Organisation, everyday learning is an effective way to boost up the capability. However, it would be real challenge for HR to encourage our busy staffs to pick-up the new AI skills on top of heavy daily duties.

We are so glad to invite Ms Sema Wong, the Head of HR of Pfizer Hong Kong, to share their everyday learning experience on how to encourage, enable and empower their staffs to learn and apply AI skills in daily workplace for even better performance.
