AI in Corporate

As AI continues to reshape the workplace, understanding its practical applications and cultural impact is essential for HR and Learning & Development leaders.

We are honored to feature Ben Fung, Senior Associate Director of Information Technology and Solutions at Chinachem Group, who will share firsthand insights into the current state of AI adoption within a major corporate environment.

This 45-minute session will move beyond theoretical discussions to explore the real-world implications of AI on human roles and organizational culture.
